Thank you. This is something conveyed at our facilities hundreds of times every day. As a supporter of Feeding South Dakota, you don’t often have the opportunity to be present when the meal you provide is received by a child, a family or a senior citizen, but these powerful moments occur daily. Some are punctuated with exuberant “thank you,” while others are ripe with tears of gratitude. Suddenly, moms and dads find themselves skipping dinner so their children can eat. Seniors resort to buying what’s cheap instead of what’s nutritious.

Because of your incredible support, Feeding South Dakota was able to respond to community needs for food assistance in the past year, especially fresh, healthy foods like fruits, vegetables, proteins, and dairy. Our goal is to build our capacity to harness healthier foods to ensure that our guests, especially growing children, receive the nutrition they need.

We took one giant step towards realizing our vision of a hunger-free and healthier community by distributing enough food to provide over 10.2 million meals to our neighbors in need. As more families make South Dakota their home, we know that hunger will grow as well. By 2020, our goal is to increase our capacity to distribute 16 million meals annually.

Your efforts are helping us reach these goals and more. Through the generous support of our statewide capital campaign, we were able to increase our infrastructure capacity to distribute healthier foods from all three of our distribution centers. There is no way for me to properly convey our gratitude, but on behalf of those we serve, thank you. With every plate filled, you are helping us realize our mission – a South Dakota free from hunger.

Matt Gassen, CEO
