Dearest friends and supporters,

In South Dakota today, 105,880 people, including 39,000 children struggle with hunger. The need is great; it touches every county in our state. But where there is hunger there is also hope. Feeding South has been growing our efforts to ensure that no one goes hungry.

We wrapped up a successful statewide capital campaign, with our final efforts in Sioux Falls. All three of our locations in Rapid City, Pierre, and Sioux Falls have more functional space to ensure we are able to continue our mission of feeding hungry people. See the insert in this report for more information on our Hand to Hand Capital Campaign.

One of the most exciting events this past year was the many new relationships that were formed with local organizations and our partner agencies in order to make food more accessible to those in need. School food pantries, library snack programs, fire station distribution sites, and Habitat for Humanity partnerships are just a few of these collaborations that have allowed us to get more food into the hands of hungry South Dakotans.

As a result of both our increased capacity and partnerships across the state, we increased the amount of meals we provided last year by 10%. This meant that more than 11.25 million meals were distributed to hungry individuals and families in need. Over the next three years, we have set a bold goal to increase our distribution by a total of three million additional meals. While this is a lofty goal, we understand that our aspirations must remain lofty enough to keep pace with the growing need. We remain steadfast in our commitment to ensure that no child, adult or senior goes hungry.

Of course, none of our work would be possible without your generosity. On behalf of the more than 100,000 people we serve, thank you for your passion and dedication to ending hunger. Your support has not only provided much needed food but has also provided hope. We look forward to continuing to work together to end hunger in South Dakota.

Matt Gassen, CEO
Thousands of struggling families are finding help and hope thanks to your support.

ONE in every FIVE children struggle with hunger in South Dakota, but...
...more than 5,100 weekend food packages were distributed weekly through the schools in Sioux Falls and Rapid City BackPack programs.
...38,500 children were provided food through our Food Pantry programs.

ONE in EIGHT South Dakota residents face food insecurity, but...
...11,262,715 meals were distributed throughout South Dakota through our programs and our 350 partner agencies across the state.
...nearly 87,000 people received food assistance through our Food Pantry programs.
...more than 487,000 meals were provided to people in some of the most rural areas of South Dakota through our Mobile Food Pantry program.
...more than 2,600 seniors received monthly food boxes through our Senior Box program.

In order to make all of this happen, more than 34,800 hours were donated by volunteers to pack, sort, and distribute food.

With YOUR help, more than 191,000 lives were changed through food assistance from Feeding South Dakota.
